CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS WILL RAISE 'BIG TOP' TONIGHT AT GALA CIRCUS IN WOMEN'S GYM

Animals and clowns, fluttering streamers and brightly-colored posters—such will be the highlights of a mammoth two-hour circus show in which eight campus organizations will participate tonight starting at 8 o'clock in the Women's gym.

A gay parade of clowns and sorority members dressed to represent circus animals will open the gala Inter-Society show tonight and the evening's crackerjack "Big Top" entertainment will take it from there.

Participating sorority lassies will dress up in their oldest and most comfortable clothes, jeans and plaid shirts, or garden slacks and casual blouses.

Posters of bearded ladies, fire eaters, snake charmers, and other typical circus "characters" will enliven the gym and provide a fitting background for the two-hour program.

Opening the show will be Delta Beta Sigma's "Five Delt's," songsters supreme. Quintet members are Helen Pianto, Dorothy Weigum, Beverley Hoppe, Joyce Norwall, and Barbara Saxon. Leah Hardcastle will be piano accompanist.

Phi Kappa Pi initiates will offer a comical skit; Sylvia Ronning will give a reading, and Dorothy Baker and Joan Kennedy will offer a duet.

Also on the gala program will be a song and dance number by Marsha Blase, Jean Palmer, Malukah Wolper, Ann Carruthers, Jackie Wise, and Doris Snell, Sappho representatives.

Jean Smith will entertain with a piano solo and Zeta Chi members will present a dramatized song.

Following the program a community sing will be held to further enhance the evening's frolicking and will be followed by a period of games. Game chairman is Mary Hooton.

Popcorn and peanuts will be available for refreshments, with sorority belles gaily dressed in true vendor style acting as distributors.

CHAIRMEN

General chairman is Marian Jacobsen of Beta Gamma Chi. Refreshments are being supervised by Betty Lennon and Dorothy Henderson, Phi Kappa Pi members. Decorations and cleanup will be under chairmanship of Eleanor Fammatre, Zeta Chi, and Ruth McCue, Delta Beta Sigma.

Participating in the evening's gay time will be members and advisers of Zeta Chi, Delta Beta Sigma, Ero Sophian, Sappho, Kappa Kappa Sigma, Phi Kappa Pi, Beta Gamma Chi, and Allenian.

Ero Sophian Society Takes Over College War Bond And Stamp Drive Today As Campaign Interest Grows

Group Will Be Identified By Novel Red, White And Blue Arm Bands

Today members of Ero Sophian society will take over the campus War Bond and Stamp drive, under the chairmanship of Anna Mae "Diff" Diffin, and Audrey Backenstoe.

The Eros will identify themselves by wearing white arm bands with "Back Our Boys" printed in red beside a blue Civilian Defense symbol bearing the Ero E, announces Jeanne Wright, society president.

Wearers of the arm-bands will circulate about the campus selling bonds and stamps, but the main selling point will be at the booth erected by the archway between the two libraries.

The all-campus campaign has been highly successful so far, with members of Sappho society selling $8,213 in bonds and stamps in their three days at the booth, and Allenians drawing in $4,183.80 during their Monday stand.

"This drive is our contribution to the national Fourth War Loan drive," declares Elsa Anderson, general chairman, "and it is the duty of every student and faculty member to help make it a success."

Mrs. Elizabeth Marchisio, financial adviser for the campaign, announces that with every bond purchased, a free ticket to Bonds Away will be given. This show will be held in the Civr auditorium in San Jose next month.

Each of the nine groups participating in the drive from now until its close is asked to use some means of identification so that other members of the student body will know from whom they can buy bonds or stamps.

The following is a scheduled of organizations taking part in the drive, and their chairmen for the day:

January 26: Ero Sophian, Jeanne Wright, president; Anna Mae Diffin and Audrey Backenstoe, chairmen.

January 28: Kappa Kappa Sigma, Laura Ann Fear, president; Ruth Schalow, chairman.

January 31: Phi Kappa Pi, Jeanne Arrants, president; Mary Hooton, chairman.

February 2: Beta Gamma Chi.

Basketball

Moffett Fielders Defeat Spartans 42-22 Last Night

By BEE LAURENCE

Bowing before a fast and rugged Moffett Field team for the fourth time, the Spartan basketball quintet dropped this week's initial game last night in the Navy gym by a score of 42 to 22.

Snagging high point honors for the evening was Navy's Paul Hofer who tanked 17 points for the blue jackets. Kerlin Morgan ran up 10 tallies for San Jose's high point score.

FIRST SCORE

In the opening seconds of play, Morgan dropped his first basket to start the local quintet off. However, Moffett Field came back to sink two goals and from then on it was Navy's game, with very little close competition from the Hub-bardmen. Score at half-time was 17 to 11.

Working with excellent coordination throughout the game, Tom Green and Bob Madden of the bluejacket squad, while not too proficient in dead-eye shooting, nevertheless displayed crackerjack ball handling and consistently kept Hofer within firing range of the basket.

FOLLOW-UP

Most of the bluejacket players, and especially Green, showed remarkable ability in following up on their own shots.

Although not playing the whole game, probably because of a recent illness, Morgan was chief coordinator for the Spartans and kept the spirit high by his customary fast action on every play.

New players on the squad Phil Celli and James Cassingham proved their worth in last night's encounter by their crackerjack ball handling, especially in the second half.

SECOND HALF

Action for the most part was slow in the opening period of play, and it was not until the second half that even Navy became coordinated.

"Big Mac" McDonald, towering bluejacket giant, came out of his initial rut to sink score after score for Navy, after Spartan's Cassingham.

Rally Committee Sponsors Contest For Attendance At Game Tomorrow; Winning Organizaion To Get Trophy

Which campus organization has the most school spirit?

This question is now being asked, and is scheduled to be answered after tomorrow night's basketball game, according to the Rally committee.

Sponsored by the above group, under the chairmanship of Bev Lusardi, an attendance contest will be held at the game, with the organization having the largest percentage of members present winning a cup, presented by Jack Reiserer.

JUDGES

Miss Lusardi announces that members of the organizations should come in groups, so they can be easily counted by the board of judges. The board includes Rally committee members Jo Ann Sweeney, Lois Alton, Elsie Schriber, and Jack Reiserer.

Milt Levy, in charge of publicity for the inter-organization attendance contest, says that the game will be well worth seeing, and that spectators will have the added excitement of seeing which organization comes out on top to win the cup.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Members of the Rally committee include, besides those named above, Chairman Jane Roberts, Head Yell Leader Frieda Hinck, Bill Gleisburg, Carl Data, Betty Doyle, Malukah Wolper, Carmendale Fernandes, Robert Eldridge.

Dr. MacQuarrie In Sacramento

Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie left yesterday to attend the regular meeting of state college presidents at Sacramento.

The college president will resume his campus duties tomorrow, according to his secretary, Miss Muriel Clark.

Proofs Due At Studio Friday

"If you want the yearbook to come out early this year, you'd better return your picture proofs to Bushnell's studio."

This was the warning issued by La Torre Editor Jeanette Owen in setting the deadline for returning proofs as Friday.

All students who had pictures taken last quarter must return proofs by then or their photographs will be left out of the book.

WORLD WAR VETS ELECT OFFICERS TODAY IN ROOM 13

Spartan World War II veterans will compete for prominence in room 13 at 12:30 o'clock today as they vote for permanent officers for the remainder of the college year.

Supervised by Temporary Chairman Howard Riddle, the active campus men will discuss selection of faculty adviser, following the election.

Five representatives of the ex-service men met with San Jose American Legionnaires to discuss possibilities of starting a campus Legion post on campus. No decision was reached.

Also accomplished Monday was appointment of Vernon Parrish as campus War Bond chairman for the drive sponsored by the college veterans on February 14.

CREATIVE MUSICAL CONTEST ENTRIES MUST SUBMIT COMPOSITIONS APRIL 7

Campus composers are invited to submit original compositions to the twelfth annual creative musical contest ending April 7.

Four divisions or classes of competition are open to contributors; piano solo, vocal solo, choral ensemble. The latter may be for strong, wood-wind or brass groups, or any combination of those mentioned.

Cash prizes will be given. These awards include a first, second, and third prize to be given in each classification. Also a special or "sweepstake" award will be given to the best of the first four awards.

If any contestant wishes further information they obtain it from George Mathews or from Miss Eleanor Joy in the Music department.

There is time yet for any ambitious composers to write and copy pieces before the deadline of April 7.

Contest numbers will be judged by some of the most prominent composers and music teachers in the west. These judges are selected after all compositions have been turned in, and are usually chosen by George Mathews of the Music department.

Campus Queen Pictures On Display

Want to see your Campus Queens?

Then check the Publications office show cases on each side of the office door. Several pictures of photogenic co-eds are already on display, and others will be put up as soon as photographs are submitted.

All queen pictures must be turned in by tomorrow. Publicity write-ups may be submitted also by the organizations. Features on the sponsored candidate may be written in any style and with as many fancy adjectives as the authors can think of.

All articles will be run on the feature page under the title Your Campus Queens, to acquaint the general student body with potential photogenic co-eds's merits.

Sweeney, Jensen To Attend Meet In Bay City Sunday

Dr. William Sweeney and Dr. Harry Jensen will attend a meeting Sunday of the California School Supervisors association, affiliated with the Department of Supervisors Curriculum of the National Education association. The meeting is to be held at the Phi Lambda Chi house in San Francisco.

One of the subjects to be taken up will be the presentation of the yearbook Social Studies for the Elementary School, which will be handled by Helen Hefferman, chief of Elementary education in California, and Corinne Seeds of U.C.L.A.

FRATERNITY HOLDS FOUNDER'S EVENT

Delta Phi Upsilon, fraternity of early childhood education, held their Founder's Day luncheon Saturday at O'Brien's.

Toastmistress for the occasion was Charlotte Lund, president of the Zeta chapter, assisted by Alumni president Mrs. William Nilli.

Speaker of the afternoon was Miss Ruth Newby, grand president of Delta Phi Upsilon, from Pasadena. Mrs. Lillian Gray read several essays translated from Spanish. Others who participated in the program were Miss Mabel Crumby, adviser of the active chapter, and Miss Emily DeVore, adviser of the alumni group.

BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE

It is fine to say that we appreciate living in a free country and even finer to defend this freedom when alien forces threaten to curtail the privileges of the "American way of life." But may we go one step further in suggesting that perhaps the finest way to preserve these precepts is to actually do something about the "four freedoms."

It is with pride that we point out two examples on campus where the advantages of democracy have been used to the fullest extent. The Book Exchange is an excellent expression of initiative and industriousness that would not be possible in many countries. Although the students who formulated this idea of a "student service for students" are not here any more, it is gratifying to note that those enrolled now have successfully carried on and sustained this idea.

The second example of student ingenuity and independence is the announcement of a plan to organize the Spartan Revelries as a permanent, full time unit that would be controlled and governed by students—and for students. We notice that the originators of this idea also plan to consult and seek advice from members of the faculty in drawing up a constitution for the Revelries, Inc.

The point that impresses us, and we hope it means something to you, is that the faculty aid is requested by the students. These two phases of democracy at work may seem small, but they are none-the-less important. So here's a hearty hip, hip, hooray for those who are taking an active part in building for our country's future right here on campus. —Kallam.

---ON STAGE---

By JEANETTE OWEN

And so we begin rehearsals for Revelries. With the chorus lined up for action, and may I add they are a mighty good looking chorus. Speaking of good looks, the cast certainly holds its own, when it comes to the beauty part of it. But this isn't an article on how good looking the people are; it is an article on just what "cooks."

First, may I throw a big bouquet to the two commerce majors that so kindly offered their services for the rush job of stenciling and running off the scripts. Believe me it was a job and a half. These two good persons are better known to their friends as Marcia Morton and Patty Moore.

As long as I'm thinking about the scripts, and that is backbone of the show, may I say that Dawn Bradford has done a wonderful job. Many thanks to Owen Broyles for his submission of several scripts that I'm very sorry we can't use all of them, because the show is only going to be two hours long.

"Directors Dilemma" is the story of four directors; the head director, played by Carmendale Fernandes; the music director, played by Barbara Kenner; costume director, by Betty Doyle, and the comical script writer, played by Phyllis McDonald. The story revolves around these characters and their troubles of putting on a wartime production with a college of almost nine-tenths woman.

There will be three big production numbers (by that I mean there will be three numbers consisting of dancing, singing and chorus only) besides the regular schript and the musical numbers there will be many specialty acts. It's all been thrown together very beautifully by Dawn Bradford, and I'm sure if you are a normal species of the homo-genus gender you will more than enjoy the many laughs that will be in store the "not so long away nights" of March 10 and 11.

NOTICES

Will Marilyn Thompson and Kerlin Morgan please see Ann Rogers in the Daily office as soon as possible.

CONTRIBUTORS' COLUMN

Thrust and Parry:

The Three L's, and others who enjoy dragging things out which have supposedly been dragged out by the cat long ago.

Nuts: Pistol Packin' Papa is a little disgusted with the high school attitude of some of the students. Miss Stewart and the paper had a nice pleasant argument until it got loused up with old maids.

Also it may interest you to know that you don't get grades in a course that you audit. And any opinion of mine that appears in this paper is mine, and not influenced by outsiders.

We don't even consider you worth three poohs.

Yours, 'til you can write better Thrust and Parry letters.

MR. Cronemiller.

P. S. I'll match you for school spirit any day!!!

To the Daily Staff:

For the last week and a half we have been reading the Thrust and Parry articles with utter amazement. How is it possible that a so-called college paper can revert to junior high school material. Quote: "Pooh Pooh Pooh Pooh." This is just the climax of a series of nonsensical articles.

In regard to the basketball controversy both the Daily staff and the Student Body were to blame, but to take a hold of the question and then let it degenerate to the state which it has is utter stupidity. Let us stop this sort of useless on the part of the "Daily Staff." childlike argument and bring the paper up to our former college standard.

Dear Fellow Spartans: Bob Cronemiller and I are not the "Spartan Daily staff." Because through past experience we knew that something of this nature could become a long drawn out affair, we attempted to close the issue with our famous and controversial, "pooh, pooh, pooh, pooh." However, because we're stupid, we couldn't carry our meaning over to the dear contributors of this column like yourself. Too bad the poor Daily has degenerated to a junior high school level.

We've had a lot of fun as far as I'm concerned it was worth it—stupidity, junior high schoolish or whatever you wish to call it. Amen. —Scrappy Squatrito.

Although 300 students signed up as blood donors when the Ero Sophian social society sponsored a drive on campus, all may not be eligible to give their blood, and should check with the Health office to make arrangements for definite appointments, with the mobile Red Cross unit which is in San Jose on the second and fourth Tuesday and Wednesday of every month.

There are five students making their contributions today, who have already obtained their parent's signature on a consent slip if they are under 21 years of age, and have had a preliminary physical examination to determine whether or not they should be donors.

The following list contains the names of 15 students who should report to the Health office today, tomorrow or Friday. Those requested to make appointments are: Peg Brethauer, Gertrude Britton, Margaret Burd, Sarah Burkham, Ilse Canble, Pat Cavanagh, Bonnie Jean Chadwell, Betty Jane Chris-

YOU HEAR ME TALKIN'

By CRONEMILLER

Welcome, brethren, into the humble basement of Hay's pool parlor, where the boys all gather to enjoy the fined things in music. It's true that we may be held to seclusion now, but we can all see into the future and read the headlines—"Basin Street Society of State Draws Record Breaking Crowd." At the moment, however, we are content to make doll images of Harry James and Tommy Dorsey, and stick pins in them.

Bee Laurence and I have agreed to read each other's column. Nothing like broadening your intellect. You can make a lot of money plugging another person. Data's broke now.

Maybe you didn't know it, but Jimmy Dorsey used to be quite a hot man on the reeds. Just check him on some of the old hot jazz records, and see if he didn't rate up among Pee-Wee Russell or Bechet. . . well almost. At any rate, we can all see that he is nothing more than a classical swingphony tweedler. True, he is making more money. Hand me another pin, Carl.

If some of you don't know it, I'll inform you that "Drummer Man" Krupa has gone to T. Dorsey. Some of us can't quite figure why he left B. G., but it is a sure thing that Krupa has dropped into a hole.

Maybe Goodman didn't like the idea of having his commercial band associated with a guy who has had bad publicity like Mr. K. At least Mr. D's band is so loused up that nothing could hurt it.

Ah! With "Jive at 11:05" back on the air everything is really clicking. Ted Lenz, the emcee, kept the old program title, and the same intro, "Sweetie Dear." What if the program does come on at 11 sharp, remember tradition, man! If you want to hear pure jazz, with a little jive, don't forget to tune the radio session come next Sunday.

If you have ever heard Sonny Skyler sing (we had quite a controversy over the spelling of that name), you have to admit that he has a good popular voice, but if you want to hear him at his best, spin the disc by Woody Herman, "Laughin' Boy Blues." If you have not heard this platter you've missed something. Of course S. S. is the one who does the insane cackling behind Holman's vocal. He really knock himself out.

Here it is. State's own musical poll. Since the recent Esquire poll appeared, several of us have wanted to know just what the people between 4th and 7th streets thought about the field of hot and sweet. Of course I'm pulling for jazz and Crosby, but let's see what you think.

Fill out the following form, and turn it into the Spartan Daily contribution box. If you need more space in which to write, attach a separate piece of paper. We hope to find lots of writing on the first question.

Don't forget to give your A.S.B. card number. No entry will be accepted without it. It is to eliminate stuffing the box.

A. S. B. Card No. ....

1. What is your favorite type of music, jazz or swing? .....

2. Who is your favorite band? .....

8. Who groans the best, Crosby or Frankie? .....

9. Who is your favorite male singer? .....

10. Who is your favorite fem singer? .....

Yessir, by next Friday we hope to have ready for you an unbiased report about S. J.'s trend in popular and hot. Get them in before noon, Thursday!

Dig you later. Humbrigo.

All students are invited to an evening of square dancing at Varsity house tonight at 8 o'clock.

Kappas: Meeting at Center tonight, 7 o'clock sharp. Please be on time.

Dr. Peterson Discusses Plastics At Senior Orientation Meeting Here

Guest speaker at yesterday's senior orientation was Dr. P. Victor Peterson, head of the Natural Science department here.

Dr. Peterson gave some highlights on the development and importance of plastics, stressing the increasing usage of bakelite, rayon, and nylon.

USE OF PLASTICS

The use of plastics and light metals in the building of planes has made an increase in the amount of cargo they can carry," said Dr. Peterson. "It is now possible for a clipper to carry twice as much material as it did in previous years," he added.

In speaking about rayon, the lecturer stated that it has just been recently that this material has had a chance to be developed and improved; he predicts that rayon will be better still within the next two years.

NYLON PRODUCTION

When nylon was first introduced in 1939 by an ex-school teacher named Carruthers, it took the place of rayon in many instances. Then after the outbreak of the war, the government took over the production of nylon, leaving little or none on the commercial market. It is being used as a substitute for Japanese silk, and has been replaced by rayon for commercial use.

Dr. Peterson concluded his talk by stating that the aluminum and light metal field should be watched for further developments. He predicted that before long aluminum of all sorts will again appear on the commercial market.

LIBRARY FEATURES NEW BOOKS ON WAR; PHOTO EDITIONS ARE AVAILABLE

New books in the library cover many fields, with the war and our Allies the main topics, according to Miss Eunice Speer, librarian at the circulation desk.

A book of Contemporary American Biography edited by John A. Beckwith and Geoffrey Coope of the University of Idaho is now on the circulation list. The book has four main sections room books on display feature photographs in various fields. Trick photography is displayed in a book by Merle Raber and Robert Wright; "The Ballard Collection of Oriental Rugs by Maurice S. Diamond, Ph.D., shows photographs of Persian rugs which remind one of our Indian rugs insofar as design is concerned.

"American Pioneer Arts and Artists," by Carl W. Dreppard, and two books on Chinese life and art complete the collection.

Carl Sandburg has written a note on "Mary Lincoln, Wife and Widow"; Clarence True Willson's "Darrow, Friendly Enemy"; "Boy Meets Bullfinch" by Geoffrey T. Hellman; "Hitler" by John Gunther; "Admiral Byrd," by Charles J. V. Murphy.

The child authors Richard, Patience, and Joh Abbe have contributed "I, Patience," and Bernard de Voto "Fossil Remnants of the Frontier: Notes on a Utah Boyhood" to the anthology.

News of interest to pre-nursing students is the meeting of Pi Nu Sigma, pre-nursing club, which will be held at noon tomorrow in room S227.

Miss Eunice Speer, acting head of the library's circulation department, will present several reviews concerning current books in the medical and nursing fields. "The Doctors Mayo" by Helen Claape-sattle, is one of the books, which tells an interesting story of the founding of the Mayo clinic.

The second book to be reviewed is titled "Who Walk Alone" by Perry Burgess. This account, which is based on facts, relates the story of a leper colony and the work of doctors, nurses and research-workers who aid in dispelling some of the mystery and horror associated with this disease. The third book which discusses work of doctors and nurses in the military field, is entitled "Military Medicine."

Sophomore Class Council Members Formulate Plans For Lower Division Mixer; Party Is Slated For March 3

Plans for the forthcoming quarterly frosh-soph mixer are being formulated by members of the second-year class council, under the direction of co-chairmen Chickie Hayes and Hugh Johnston.

The mixer is scheduled for March 3, and the committees in charge have already been appointed. D. J. Henderson will be refreshment chairman; Roberta Ramsay will handle Red Cross work for mixer points; Beverly Greer will be in charge of decorations.

Men's activities will be planned by Wayne Deatsch, while Mary Hooton will arrange the women's schedule. Betty Regan and Dave Webster have been appointed to take care of posters, with Carl Data handling publicity.

Keeping soph spirit high will be the job of Marge Hopper, and entertainment at the mixer dance is to be under the direction of Pat Dunlavy.

Appointed reporter for the council is Carl Data, while Pat Dunlavy has been elected treasurer, according to President Gerry Stevens.

She also announces that a council party has been scheduled for Friday night at 7:30, with members trekking first to the Ice Bowl, and then, at 10:30, to the home of Betty Jones at 152 South Sixteenth street for dinner.

Phi Kappa Pi

There will be a meeting of Phi Kappa Pi members at 12:30 o'clock today. All those participating in the skit tonight must report to room 24 for practice.

Intersociety Decorations committee meets today at 4 o'clock in Women's gym. —Marge Howell.

Public Art Exhibits Are Planned For Art Department

Public art exhibits are being planned by the Art faculty and Art council to open in the Art department on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

"The concert series and stage plays are being presented to the public through the efforts of the local Denny-Watrous management, while the Fine Arts situation is being ignored," states Betty Buckley, art major in charge of the new program. "San Jose has no art gallery, nor any other place of exhibiting works of art."

Two girls from Smock and Tam and Delta Epsilon, on-campus art societies, will be on hand during Saturday and Sunday afternoons to act as guides, and to answer questions concerning the exhibits. The public will be invited to attend free of charge.

Permission was obtained for this program from Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president of the college. The hope of those in charge is that a permanent art gallery will be established in which the exhibits will be shown directly from San Francisco and other great exhibition centers. "It is necessary now for us to make special arrangements for exhibits to be shown here," states Miss Buckley.

SPARTANS IN THE SERVICE

By ED WAITE

COMMISSIONED

Former State college student, Carlton Nelson Fletcher, graduated January 15, from the Naval air training center, Corpus Christi, and was commissioned a lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps reserve.

LETTER

David Parney, S 2/s U.S.N.R. Seaman Guard, U.S.N.T.S. San Diego, 33, Calif.

"I left State in June of '43 with other Spartans for the V-12 unit at University of Texas," he writes in a letter to the Daily editor.

"They put me in a stiff aeronautical engineering course, and as a result I ended up as a 'boot' here at San Diego. When I left (State), I had the opportunity of having the Daily sent to me, but I passed it up. I missed the old school more than I thought I would. Now I wonder if it would be possible to have it sent to me here.

"If you haven't heard from any of the Spartans at University of Texas, most of them are doing I left with Bill Kurst, Chuck McCarty and Jack Wurkhauser. The first and last are in V-5 now in Kentucky. I did pretty high in the Navy's intelligence tests and I'll get, more or less, another chance in a Navy meteorology school.

"I will really appreciate a few copies of the paper. Thank you very much."

DAVE COEN

Dave Writes from Fort Warren, Wyoming, that he will be back in school here at State next quarter.

"I am glad to see that there are a few of the stronger sex left in the old school. . . I received a discharge from the Army and I'll be in San Jose in about a month if everything goes as it usually does."

A/S JOE DI MAGGIO

We have just been tipped off that former Stater, Little Joe, has been doing all right for himself with the gals back in Montana State university at Missoula. He is an Army Air Corps aviation student.

DEAN THOMPSON

"The Dailies are coming through in great style," he writes. "Jim Thorpe hopes we'll be able to drop in one the Junior Prom. But everything in the Navy—except Bee's buzzin'—is very uncertain.

"I read the 'Thrust and Parry' column in today's arrival, and couldn't help answering it. Hope you see fit to publish it. Keep up the good work!"

SEABEE

Ernest L. Nelson, CM 3rd Cl. 77 NCB. Co. D-Pit c-o F.P.O. San Francisco, Calif.

He writes, in one of those hard to read V-mail letters:

"Dear Editor: Having a few minutes to spare, I thought I would drop a line to the old alma mater ('37) and express my continued appreciation for the Daily. Of course its arrival here in the southwest Pacific takes time—from six weeks to two months—but news of the campus never gets really old. I naturally enjoy the column on Spartans in the Service most of all, as occasionally I run across one of the 'old timers' I used to know.

"In your latest issue that I received (Oct. 28) I was pleased to see, at long last, that the Sea Bees had finally been recognized by you as a unit of our armed forces . . . more and more civilians and 'U.S.O.' service men are finally cognizant of the fact that, here in this theater of war, it has been the Marines, and the Sea Bees who have done the pioneering of every job.

"I am sure that among the hundreds of Spartans in the service there must be some that are members of the 'buzzin' bees."

"The Daily, in my mind, is the earmark of a college that is 'on the ball.' Keep up the good work."

Moffett Fielders Defeat Spartans 42-22 Last Night

ham had tallied two goals for State in the first minute of play.

San Jose grew rough and wild in the second half with both Mal Sinclair and Morgan missing on their one-handed mid-court shots which have brought cheers from even the opponent's rooters in previous games. Fouls were frequent on both teams.

Coch Bill Hubbard's consistent rotation of players may have had a hand in keeping individual scores down, and possibly accounts for Morgan's slight 10 tallies in comparison with his record-breaking 17 of last Friday's game against Fort Ord.

Each member of the Spartan squad, however, played spirited ball, but were no match for the overpowering bluejacket five which outclassed them considerably as far as height and experience were concerned.

SEVEN PLEDGES ARE INITIATED INTO MU PHI EPSILON AT CEREMONY; GROUP PLANS WAR BOND CONTEST SOON

Seven pledges to Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary music sorority, were initiated into the organization at the formal candlelight ceremony held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Thomas Eagan.

Those taken into the sorority were Roberta White, Janet Ehrke, Jean Chappell, Patricia Boyd, Barbara Welch, Yvonne Dallis, and Eleanor Holzworth.

To be accepted as a pledge to Mu Phi Epsilon, music students must first pass a stiff audition on their best-known instrument before an impartial judging body.

New members will now assist old-timers in arrangements for the forthcoming concert which will be presented on campus in the near future in coordination with Phi Mu Alpha, national honorary music fraternity.

In keeping with the patriotic spirit prevailing on campus, admission to the concert will be only through purchase of a war bond or stamps.

Officers of the sorority are Peggy Airth, president; Virginia Jones, vice-president; Geraldine Hawkins, recording secretary; Mary Lee Heeron, corresponding secretary; Frances Robinson, alumnae secretary; Ethel Wulff, chaplain; Gwen Thomas, historian; Roberta von Glahn, treasurer; Barbara Kollberg, warden; and Eloisa Ardaiz, chorister.
